“New Turn-a-Score”

PTR and USPTA Master Pro Joe Dinoffer announced the release of a new score-keeping device called the “Turn-a-Score.” According to Dinoffer, “This is the most versatile score-keeper in the tennis industry in the United States.”

The Turn-a-Score features six score dials that are easily turned to change the score. Large letters are easy to read and the unit can be hung on a net (outside the doubles sideline) or on a fence. The unit is also completely rust proof.
